AUTOMATIC PHONE QUESTION PUT UP

the Board of Trade, today began his cross-examination of T. P. Sylvan, representing the Eastern group of telephone companies, when the telehone rate hearing before the Public Utilities Commission reopened.

Mr. Clement delved into the ques-tion of automatic telephones to show that installation of modern devices here as used in Detroit would ac-complish the same purpose in reliev-ing pressure on the company's operaorages would reducing traffic by the sholltion of the flat rate residence elephone, and rate increases.

Particular stress was laid on the cess of the automatic system installed in the Postoffice Department last September. By means of this system the person using the telephone by manipulating a disc at the base of the instrument gets his number without an operator unless he is calling outside the department This system could well be applied to the entire city, is the contention of Mr. Clement.

Groundwork Laid.

Groundwork for Mr. Clement's questions along this line was laid at the afternoon session yesterday by Jesse P. Crawford, of the Pederation of Citizens' of Citizens' Associations, who asked Mr. Sylvan why it was, when the telephone company was commandeer-ing equipment for other cities to bring to Washington to meet the present emergency, that the automatic ap-pllances intended for Detroit were not diverted here. Mr. Sylvan replied that in the judgment of the Company's enment of this apparatus complete installation would take a number of years, without a complete breakdown of the present standardization equipment. With the pressure of traffic such as it has been in recent months. Mr. Sylvan said, no revolutionary move could be made immediately without making service even worse than it admittedly is now.

Company Fell Down. Examination of Mr. Crawford brought out the admission that al-though the telephone company had anticipated a large growth of business, it had fallen down when called upon to meet the crisis resulting from the country's entry into the it was another case of the failure of a public utility in a crisis. While no A meeting will be held to A meeting will be held this afterment ownership was made, it was apparent to representatives of the telephone company and others present that arguments for such ownership were being made to the commission.

A meeting will be held this afternoon in the Central High School auditorium to formally organize the District local of the "Grade School taffing check; lost Schools taffing check; lost Schools taffing check; lost Schools and the school taffing check; lost Schools and the school taffing check; lost Schools and taffing check; lost Schools are taken to the commission.
